The 10th of May in 2018 is the Ascension Day (the Thursday forty days after Easter), which is a federal holiday. It coincides with the Celebration of Men’s Day in Germany. On that day it is tradition to do a males-only hiking tour primarily for the purpose of getting drunk. They take small carts or wheelbarrows in order to carry different bottles of alcohol pulled by manpower. Nowadays not only men love to go hiking on Father’s Day. In Würzburg you have the great opportunity to go walking the franconian wine hiking trail - it leads visitors trough beautiful vineyards where one can visit vintners and stop by at traditional ‘Häckerwirtschaften’ for a glass of regional wine.
